For businesses like Vancity Electric and Clearstone Solutions, the LiveSwitch and Jobber integration has saved significant time, enabling them to remain organized and responsive while delivering exceptional service to clients.

- ✓ Instantly start a live video call or request a video recording directly from the Jobber contact record.
- ✓ Start video sessions by texting a simple link. LiveSwitch is browser-based and does not require downloads.
- ✓ Video recordings are automatically stored in Jobber notes, making it easy to access video sessions from Jobber contact records.

How the Integration Is Being Used

Companies rely on the LiveSwitch and Jobber integration to replace costly and time-consuming in-person estimates, document job progress and communicate with customers from one platform.

Shaun Adams, the Director at Clearstone Solutions, was struggling with staffing challenges and now leverages the integration for virtual recruitment. Cory Byron, the co-founder of Vancity Electric, relies on LiveSwitch and Jobber to provide virtual estimates and quickly secure new jobs in an increasingly competitive market.

"The integration is a no-brainer. I can launch video estimates directly from Jobber, and the video recording is automatically synced to the customer's record. It's one less thing I have to open. That's what an integration should be doing."

Cory Byron | Co-Founder, Vancity Electric

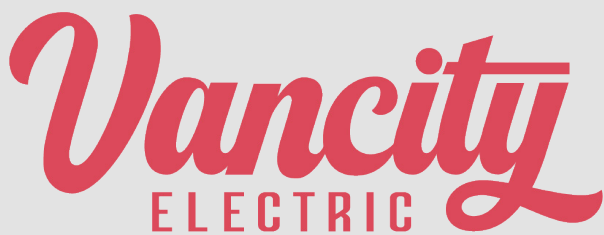

"I'm really tech-savvy, and this integration just works. I can start video calls directly from Jobber—no downloads or uploads required. It's a massive, massive win. This just makes everything so much smoother."
